(b) 1/2 Division – Player Selection

There is no Draft for the 1-2 Division. All players will be sorted and placed on team s by the Board members. Players will be grouped into teams after all registrations are turned in, teams will also be made up of (4) first graders and (4) Second graders, or as close to equal as possible.

VIII. DRAFT PROCEDURES

(a) Preamble

Each Coach is responsible for reading and understanding the Draft procedures before the Draft. The following procedures are non-negotiable at the Draft.

The Player Agent will conduct the Draft. The goal of the Player Agent and the Board of Directors is to have equality among the teams at the conclusion of the Draft. The program is for the players – all players- not just the coaches. The Draft will run in order to insure equal opportunity for all players and teams.

(b) Coaches

Coaches only (maximum of two per team) will be allowed at the draft. All coaches must be registered. NO cell phones or kids are allowed in the draft room . All registered coaches should be able to attend 50% of all evaluations, pre-draft coaches meetings and the draft in order to utilize the “Coaches Option”. Any coach who has not met this requirement at the start of the draft may forfeit their “Coaches Option” and the player can be drafted to any team. An individual appointed by the player agent will draft teams without a coach. These “Ghost Teams” will pick players for the team by choosing the best available player in that round. “Ghost Team” picks may NOT be traded.

(c) Draft Order

At the beginning of the draft coaches will draw numbers to determine draft order. No trading of draft numbers is allowed. Drafting will proceed in a windshield wiper format. Team names will be selected in reverse draft order (the person with the highest number will get 1st choice). Please expedite completing the forms at the draft. Completed draft forms must be returned to the division rep at the end of the draft session.

(d) Ratings

Player ratings will be based on evaluations, previous season’s rating, and a coaches meeting prior to the draft. Players who did not come to evaluations but are known to the league will be given a rating agreed upon by the coaches, division rep, and the player agent at the coaches meeting. The comprehensive player rating sheet which will include grade, height, experience, and averaged score will be distributed at the draft and collected before the coaches leave the room.

(e) Coaches and Assistant Coaches

No teaming up with another coach or assistant coach will be allowed during the time from the start of the pre-draft coaches meeting through the end of the draft.

(f) Options

Players will be ranked from highest overall evaluation score on down. The coach and assistant coach options will be picked in the round in which those players were ranked.

Exception to the coach’s option are as follows: If both coaches players are ranked in the first round, the coach and the assistant coach will not be allowed to coach on the same team for that season. If both coaches’ players are ranked in the second round, one player will be “bumped up” to the first round and taken in that round. The other player will be taken in the second round and the draft will proceed for that team in the third round. If both coaches’ players fall in the third, fourth, fifth rounds and so on... the “bump up” procedure will be used accordingly. If either the coaches or the assistant coaches’ players fail to be evaluated the players will automatically be placed in the first round and the coaches will not be allowed to coach on the same team for that season.

Special circumstances may occur in which the family option, along with the assistant coach’s option lump to many players into the same rounds. If this does occur, it is at the player agent and division representative’s discretion as to what round their picks will be placed. This determination will be made prior to the draft.

(g) Player Selection

Player selection cannot take place lower than the round that the draft is in at that point. (e.g. if the draft is in round 2, no player can be picked in round 3 until all round 2 players have been chosen)

(h) Hat picks

All players who did not attend evaluation and could not be rated will then be placed in a hat and drawn after all other rated selections have been made.

(i) Trading

Trading will be allowed for justifiable reasons only. Players traded have to be within one round, up or down, of each other in order to keep parity of the teams. For example: you may trade a 3rd round player for a 2nd round or 4th round player. Players who are not evaluated, but were rated, will be noted on the draft sheet and will not be eligible for trades. All trades must be completed before coaches leave the draft room. No trades will be allowed after leaving the draft room. Ghost team picks cannot be traded. The player agent must approve all trades.

(j) Late Sign-Ups

Registrations received after evaluations with Board approval will be added to the draft sheets and will be reviewed by all coaches attending the pre -draft meeting to determine their proper placement in the draft. 51% of the coaches present must agree to each placement. Registrations added between pre-draft meeting and the draft will be placed by player agent and reviewed and agreed to by a majority of the coaches at the draft.

(k) Draft Options in Special Circumstances

Under special circumstances the Board will build the teams.
